Re: United States v. Scott Bradley Miles
Case No. 5:01CR70039

Dear Mr. Miles:

I understand from the Bureau of Prisons that where a federal court orders its federal sentence to run concurrent with a previously imposed state sentence, a nunc pro tunc designation may be made, whereby the Bureau of Prisons designates the state facility as the place for service of a federal sentence. Based on the language of the J&C, when Scott Miles is received into BOP custody, the BOP should automatically consider whether a nunc pro tunc designation is warranted. If he is not automatically considered, he should make a nunc pro tunc request to the Inmate Systems Manager.

Sincerely yours,
